
Psalm 23 King James Version (KJV)

23 The LORD is my shepherd; I shall not want.

² He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters.

³ He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

⁴ Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

⁵ Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

⁶ Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the LORD for ever.

Defined: Our daily declaration and prayer is that The Lord Jesus is our overseer and confidant; it is because of His guidance and superior knowledge of the world around us, even our personal life, we have an advantage over the worlds many evils. God causes us to relax and to have inner peace when the world around us is in turmoil. For God's grace is greater than all of our sins; as we are forgiven, regardless of what we've done. He restores our self-confidence and intentionally places our life on the path of doing right. Even when we experience dark times, intimidations and potential dangers, we are not afraid because we know that our life is in the hands of The Lord Jesus. In fact, as children of God, we are comforted in the most difficult times in our lives. It's supernatural and extraordinary, but we get to have it because of our ever increasing faith in the Lord. Although we may find ourselves in the company of enemies, haters, God prepares great things for us, even in their presence; so they see that God is for us. They see that we are loved by God in a special way; as great provisions are made for us better than they.... Therefore we have come to know without a doubt, that goodness, which is good times, divine blessings, and mercy which is abundant allocations and considerations for each of us continue as long as we live; for we will remain in the church ever learning and listening to the voice of God, in fellowship, in prayer meetings with other believers forever and forever until we die, and then be with the Lord throughout all of eternity. This God promises to those who trust and believe.
